ACADEMIC INFORMATION

General information about our university	Please take a look at our website: Université de Nantes
Academic Calendar* 1st semester / term 2nd semester / term *Dates will vary depending on the faculty / department	Semester dates: September 2021 – January 2022 Exam period: mid-December 2021 - January 2022 Semester dates: January 2022 – May 2022 Exam period: May 2022 (retake exams usually take place in June)
Levels	Undergraduate and Graduate
ECTS credits required for undergraduate students	30 ECTS credits for one semester 60 ECTS credits for full academic year
ECTS credits required for completion of an undergraduate honors degree	180 credits
Duration of programs	One semester OR one academic year
Language of Instruction	French
Language Requirements	In order to ensure that students complete their coursework successfully, a minimum level of B1 as defined by the Council of Europe is required to study at Université de Nantes. Some departments require a B2 level or higher. Only the Institute of French as a Foreign Language (i-FLE) accepts beginners in their program. Students planning to enroll in other faculties must provide proof of proficiency in French: either a certificate by the French department at their home university or an official French language test/certificate (DELF, DALF, TCF). Since French embassies and consulates are now increasingly demanding proof of proficiency in French, students will need to verify the requirements when applying for their visa.
French Support Classes for Exchange Students	Support classes are offered free of charge for exchange students and take place twice a week during the evening, usually from 6pm to 8pm. However, these classes aren't available for students enrolled in French semester courses at i-FLE. Students wishing to take the French support classes must request them while filling out the online application.
Services Available to Exchange Students	University Libraries, Sport Centers, Computer Labs, University Health Services, Student Life Center, etc.

ACCOMMODATION

Is on-campus housing available for exchange students?	Yes, university housing is available for exchange students only. However, the number of rooms being limited, we cannot guarantee to meet all accommodation requests.
How do students request on-campus housing?	Students from partner institutions who wish to request on-campus housing can do so while filling out the online application form. We encourage students to apply early in order to increase their chances of being placed in a residence hall. For more information about housing in university residences, please download the Housing information document available on our website.

Are residences halls open during semester breaks?	Yes, university residences are open for the entire academic year (September–May) including school breaks. There are no additional housing fees during the breaks. Students must contact the International Relations Office if they need to extend their stay (for academic reasons only) for the summer (June, July, and August).
If university housing is not available, is there any assistance to find private housing?	Yes, for further information students should refer to our website under Accommodation and Housing aid. Additional help will be provided upon arrival in Nantes at the Guichet Unique - International students welcome center.

VISA AND ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Are exchange students required to obtain a student visa?	Students planning to study abroad must contact the French consulate or Campus France services in their country of residence at least 3 months before their departure in order to find out about visa requirements. Usually, if the student's mobility period in France lasts more than three months, he/she must obtain a long-term student visa before arrival in France. Citizens from the European Union, the European Economic Area, Andorra, Monaco, San Marino, Switzerland, and the Vatican are not required to obtain a visa to study in France. Foreigners residing in any of the previously mentioned territories are allowed to stay a maximum of 90 days in France. However, they must obtain a visa before coming to study in France. Students who are part of the ERASMUS+ program but are not citizens of one of the above mentioned entities must obtain a visa.
Are exchange students allowed to work?	The type of visa that students obtain before their arrival in France determines whether or not they are allowed to work. Students who are allowed to work in France must get their residence permit before starting to work. Foreign students are only allowed to work 964 hours per year (approximately 20 - 21 hours per week). During academic holidays, they are allowed to work full time.

INSURANCES, FRENCH HEALTH COVERAGE - SOCIAL SECURITY AND HEALTH SERVICES

French Health Coverage Sécurité Sociale (CPAM)	All European Union students must have their European Health Insurance Card. Non-European students must register online for the National Health Service Coverage through the following website: etudiant-etranger.ameli.fr For further information about health coverage and health services, please visit our website.
Do exchange students need to take out any other insurance plans upon arrival?	Yes, students must purchase a French housing insurance, preferably before their arrival, in order to move into their residence. Civil liability insurance is also mandatory for all exchange students. Housing and civil liability insurances can be purchased online. Further information will be provided once the mobility period is confirmed.
Medical services on campus	Every student enrolled at Université de Nantes has free access to the University's health and social services - SUMPPS. Students must make an appointment in order to see a practitioner. For more information, visit the University Student Health Services website.
