FURTHER YOUR KNOWLEDGE

The Kettering education model combines classwork with real-world experience.

Exchange students like you are enrolled full time at Kettering. That means three to four courses (12-16 credits) for undergraduates and two courses for graduates (8 credits). If you are attending during the Fall Term, classes take place from October to December; the Spring Term is April to June.

Students have their choice of two types of exchange experiences at Kettering.

- ▶ Academic: One or two academic terms on campus. In-person coursework in your field of study.
- ▶ Academic + Internship: One academic term followed by one term of academic training in a company or on campus.

OUR UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

Applied and Computational Mathematics, Applied Biology, Applied Physics, Biochemistry, Business, Chemical Engineering, Chemistry, Computer and Electrical Engineering, Computer Science, Engineering Physics, Engineering Systems, Mechanical Engineering

BUILD YOUR SCHEDULE

You have access to a variety of courses in engineering, science and business.

Plan your experience at Kettering University by selecting your courses. Exchange students have access to the same courses as every other student, with few exceptions. Consult with your home university faculty or advisers before deciding which courses are best for you.

You will submit a Course Request Form to the Office of International Programs as part of your pre-arrival checklist.

SCHEDULING TIPS

- ▶ Do not select courses with the KUO designation.
- ▶ Include alternative course selections as enrollment is not always guaranteed.
- ▶ For course descriptions, refer to the course catalog at catalog.kettering.edu/coursesaz/
- ▶ To find courses available during your term, use the scheduler at ssb.kettering.edu/CKU1/xhwschedule.P_SelectSubject

GET HELP WHEN YOU NEED IT

Support services help ensure your success.

Your academic success is our priority. The Kettering academic regimen can be rigorous. Our terms are just 11 weeks, with the final week reserved for exams. This is different from traditional semester terms. Students will often have homework daily. Quizzes, exams and projects also contribute to students' final grades.

To help you meet these academic demands, we offer a variety of support services and resources. Explore them all at kettering.edu/academics/academic-services.

In addition, our Student Affairs Office offers programs, services and facilities that foster academic achievement, lifelong learning and civic engagement. Visit Student Affairs at kettering.edu/student-life.

HOME SWEET HOME IN AMERICA

FEED YOUR BRAIN AND YOUR BODY

No matter your taste, you'll find a dining option for you at Kettering.

For many people, their entire day revolves around food and meal times. At Kettering, you have dining options that suit your schedule and satisfy your tastes—from coffee, bagels and pizza to on-the-go or late-night snacks and treats. Our new Battenberg Café in the Learning Commons features seven dining stations while Einstein Bros. Bagels, BJ's Lounge and the Café Order Window offer even more flexible options.

FUNDING YOUR EXCHANGE EXPERIENCE

Prepare yourself financially for studying abroad.

Finances and budgeting can be stressful. That's why our exchange program is designed to be as cost-neutral as possible. Students will pay their home tuition expenses, but Kettering tuition is waived. Personal travel, visa application fees, recreation and meal expenses should be considered in addition to those below. Create a budget that works for you and your time studying abroad.

- ▶ Housing: $1,600 ($100 cash deposit)
- ▶ Student Activity Fee: $250
- ▶ Health Insurance: Approximately $350
- ▶ Total: $2,300

BANKING AND U.S. FINANCES

For your purchases, it's advised to have a credit card or debit card. Cash payments are increasingly less common in the United States. Before leaving your home country, talk with your banking institution about ATM fees, transaction fees, currency exchange rates, credit limits and other bank policies.

Exchange students can open a bank account in the United States after arriving (we do not recommend this for programs shorter than three months). The Office of International Programs can help you gather the appropriate paperwork and schedule an appointment with one of our partner banks in Flint.
